Letter of Invitation

Dear Colleagues,

It is our great pleasure to invite you to the 7th Central European Symposium on Antimicrobials and Antimicrobial Resistance, CESAR2025. The Symposium will take place from 22-25 September 2025 in hotel Kolovare in Zadar, an attractive tourist city located in the centre of East Adriatic and surrounded by stunning nature of great variety. Hotel Kolovare is located only a fifteen-minute walk from the historic centre of Zadar, which offers the perfect combination of sports, wellness, and gourmet experiences.

Following the tradition established by the previous CESAR meetings, CESAR2025 will cover hot topics in the fields of new antimicrobials and antimicrobial resistance, thus creating multidisciplinary background and bringing together scientists from all research environments, including academia, research institutes, clinics and industry. The scientific programme was prepared by an international scientific committee of microbiologists from various fields.

Building upon the resounding success of our previous gathering, we are committed to strengthening scientific bonds among research groups in neighbouring countries and beyond. This symposium is organised by the Croatian Microbiological Society, so you can be sure that you will experience optimal balance between scientific and business activities with social events and long-lasting memories.

With the aim of encouraging the participation of young researchers, the Organizing Committee has endeavoured to offer reduced registration fees, especially for students, along with special accommodation rates for symposium attendees. Comprehensive information regarding these arrangements is available on our symposium website <http://hmd-cms.hr/cesar2025/>.

We are looking forward to welcoming you in Zadar, on the fascinating Croatian coast, in a pleasant late summer atmosphere and look forward to a productive and enriching symposium experience.

With kindest regards,

Prof. Dr. sc. Gordana Maravić Vlahoviček
President of the International Programme Committee

Prof. Dr. sc. Roberto Antolović
President of CESAR2025

Izv. prof. Dr. sc. Dubravko Jelić
President of the Organizing Committee
